

America's Coming Reichstag Fires

I address this topic with the inclusion of events that are happening in today's news. The Reichstag fire was used by a political party, in February 1933, to motivate German citizenry to respond at the polls just before an election. Goering and Gobbels two of Hitler's top Nazi party officials had the idea that if they burned the Reichstag (German parliamentary building) and blame it on the communist party at the time they could sway the German people to vote for their party officials because the Nazi party would protect them from these vicious acts of terrorism. They received word about a 'half-witted communist arsonist' that wanted to burn the Reichstag building - from all available information this contributed to the conception of the idea. The arsonist, Van der Lubbe was overheard talking in one of Berlin's local pubs...

Excerpt R&F. * From Goering's Reichstag Presidential Palace an underground passage was built to carry the central heating system to the Reichstag building. Through this tunnel Karl Ernst, a former bellhop who had become the Berlin S.A. Leader, led a small detachment of storm troopers on the night of February 27 and they made their way to the Reichstag, where they scattered gasoline and self-igniting chemicals and then made their way quickly back to the palace the way they had come. At the same time 'half-witted Dutch Communist' with a passion for arson, Marinus van der Lubbe, had made his way into the huge darkened and to him unfamiliar building, set some small fires of his own. The feeble-minded pyromaniac was a godsend to the Nazi's. He had been picked up a few days before after being overheard in a bar boasting that he had attempted to set fire to several public buildings and that he was going to try the Reichstag next. *

Results of the Fire

* On the day following the fire, February 28, he (Hitler who was chancellor at this time) prevailed on President Hindenburg to sign a decree "for the Protection of the People and the State" suspending seven sections of the constitution which guaranteed individual and civil liberties.

Described as defensive measures against Communists acts of violence, "Endangering the State," the decree laid down that the following be suspended:

"Restrictions on personal liberty, on the right of free expression of opinion, including freedom of the press - on the rights of assembly and association; and violations of the privacy of postal, telegraphic, telephonic communications; and warrants for house searches, orders for confiscations as well as restrictions on property, also beyond the legal limits otherwise prescribed."

Lists were made up prior to the passing of this decree that when passed resulted in 4000 arrests and multiple sanctioned executions.

So what does this have to do with America?

Some who are awake can see where this is leading, yet I will expound in and through our recent history of the last 40 years.

1. August 2009. The recent attack on the Democratic headquarters in Colorado was only mentioned a few times in the news media and then brushed off. Maurice Schwinger, a Democrat operative broke some windows and vandalized the Democrat Headquarters and the corresponding media tried to lay the blame on right-wing folks, Christians and the Republican Party.*

2. Those who are attending America's tea parties are being slandered and called racists and right-wing conspirators, hate mongering Christians, because they see where this country is going and are now willing to take a stand. My only question is, to those of us standing up and speaking out, "Are you going to see it through?" I know I will. For the persecution of those that still hold this country dear has only just begun.* (St. Louis, Mo. Kenneth Gladney attacked and beaten at tea party rally.)

3. Rallies and peaceful protests are now being called 'organized mobs' and people are being beaten by democrat union thugs, which mean some of these rallies will be infiltrated and coerced into violence because of the current regime in the Washington D.C.* I call it a regime because whether you agree with me or not, the Democrat Party that now controls Washington and they do not intend to relinquish that power, ever. I will expound upon that later.

4. I call it the "Obama license to Silence Bill" - House Bill #773 will give the illustrious leader (Obama) immediate and complete control over the internet. How about that America and some say it can't happen here!

5. The Democrat Party is trying to bring back the fairness doctrine, which is a limit on free speech in this nation and if you don't cooperate the radio station owner can be fined or shut down. Sounds like the "U.S.S. of A" has taken the fundamental right of free speech and wants it limited to the tolerance of the party in power. All is well when you speak in glowing admiration of the gifted 'Muslim in the White House'.

6. As for the confiscation of property that has in-part been enacted when the I.R.S. can seize assets and property for assumed breaches in the tax code of a million plus words. An American citizen has to stand up and protect their rights against government with an unlimited payroll and all the judges of the courts as their ally; without the finances of the government at their disposal. Now this is where the fairness doctrine should apply. Any case brought against an American citizen - the citizen should have equal access to the same pocket book that our tax dollars pay for and many an American has been stripped of their rights in the courts because their pockets were not deep enough, to defend themselves.

7. The lists were compiled before the official "Decree" was signed and put into law. Today lists are being compiled and names of American citizens are being written down. The official White House informant line is called Flag@whitehouse.gov. Even though they say it's been closed lists were still made and archived for their future use.

So Heikes what has this to do with the year ahead? As a student of history and current political trends, I believe - as the Bible says "there is nothing new under the sun."

Prelude to an Election In March, 2004 right before a major election in Spain, bombs went off in the Madrid train stations leaving 191 dead and 1800 wounded. Voted in at the election, a socialist regime pulled all support and troops from the conflict in Iraq and the people voted for peace at any cost. Oh, by the way, one of the masterminds of the bombings was acquitted and released in 2006. “Oh my Nero, Rome is burning“, and Obama replies, “Don’t worry I’ll blame it on the Christians“.

This is one of many events that happened in recent history, with a stimulus package designed to kill job growth, unemployment rising, food supply being shutdown through extreme environmentalism, (example - Calif.) rising prices by more government rules and regulations, deficits in the U.S. budget, a health care reform mandate designed to take more control of your rights, cap and trade that would tax the air you breathe... I’d say this is a fuse that has been lit to secure an event or series of events to manipulate the elections in 2010.

Summation You can see in our recent past and even in events that happened almost 70 years ago, that elections have been manipulated through acts of violence and terrorism, all which have their effects on history, and especially in democracies, affecting the vote of some to their own destruction... (Costing the lives of thousands in the case of the Reichstag fire, and 51 million dead in the Second World War).

The folks in charge of the White House and Congress know these tactic’s very well. That is why I am building a correlation of the methods being used by this present administration and informing you of what will be coming to pass in our near future.

I will soon share an article I am writing titled, “As Governor” covering my thoughts about how Alaska can effectively protect our constitutional rights guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution and our own Alaska State Constitution.

Sincerely, Gerald L. Heikes 8/24/09
